

Become a Provider

If you are looking for a professional career that allows you to stay home and run your own home based business, then becoming an Air Force FCC Provider may be a good fit for you. We'll provide the necessary training and materials to get you started. Training topics include first aid, health, safety, developmentally appropriate practices, and child guidance. All of the credentials you earn will transfer with you.

Qualifications to become an FCC provider:

- Military family member
- At least 18 years of age
- Ability to read, speak, and write English
- Physically and mentally capable of providing care
- Willing and able to complete the required training
- Willing to agree in writing to the requirements for FCC providers
- Able to obtain the required insurance coverage
- Willing to undergo a background check on yourself and other members of your home
